Schubert Flint Public Affairs Announces New Vice President

Sacramento, Calif. - Schubert Flint Public Affairs today announced that Marice White has joined the firm as a vice president, out of the Orange County office. Ms. White brings a diverse background in public affairs, media relations and political campaigns, to her new role at SFPA. With a vast network of contacts across many disciplines, Ms. White will lead business development and client services in Southern California.

Ms. White has a successful and proven track record of providing direction, management and strategic counsel on a number of complex projects at both the local and statewide level for a broad range of clients, including: home builders, developers, land development, tourism, education, communications and natural resources.

Ms. White has been instrumental in the success of a number of key projects in recent years, including gaining approvals for Home Depot in Orange and Los Angeles counties, winning approval from the California Coastal Commission on behalf of Lennar Homes for a luxury town-home development in Newport Beach, as well as, directing numerous successful media relations and community relations programs for a multitude of clients throughout Southern California.

Ms. White holds a bachelor's degree in political science with an emphasis in voting and elections from the University of California, Irvine. Her work has been recognized by the Public Relations Society of America, she has been awarded numerous PROTOS and was nominated for the prestigious Silver Anvil Award.

"We are very excited to welcome Marice to our firm," said Frank Schubert, president of Schubert Flint Public Affairs. "Having worked with Marice on a number of projects, we have always been impressed with her astute understanding of public affairs, her reputation for excellence and her commitment to superior client service. We are quite pleased that she has decided to lead the Orange County office and join our group of outstanding professionals."
